Frequently Asked Questions

Can Serving Immigrants Help My Relative Apply For Bail/Bond, And What Is The Likelihood Of Success?

Yes, Serving Immigrants can assist in applying for bail or bond. The likelihood of obtaining bond depends on several factors including the detainee's immigration history, criminal record, family ties in the U.S., and the risk of flight. Our firm has a track record of advocating for detainees at bond hearings, presenting strong arguments for their release on bond, and securing their release while they await the resolution of their immigration case.

What Can I Do If My Relative Is Facing Deportation From Krome Or BTC?

If your relative is facing deportation, it is essential to seek professional legal help immediately. Serving Immigrants can provide comprehensive legal representation in deportation defense. We can explore all possible defenses against deportation, such as asylum, adjustment of status, waivers, and cancellation of removal. Our attorneys will work tirelessly to prepare a robust defense and represent your relative in all hearings and appeals, striving to achieve the best possible outcome.
